Dear Parents,

Schooling is an integral part of any human being and it is essential that a child should get proper formal education in a good school. We as parents sometimes become extra ambitious and too demanding and our decisions may get influenced by the extreme competitive environment prevalent around us. In addition our children might get misguided or misled by their friends or peer group to go for coaching or for changing school which can adversely affect the future prospects of your child. Children want freedom in teenage and so they pressurize their parents to send them out to study but our past experience and observation reveal that they tend to abuse the freedom that they get and are not able to handle the pressure situations. Students get distracted and start indulging in wrong practices as they have nobody to monitor. Most of the time parents live under a wrong notion that their children are getting prepared for the competitive examinations but the situation may be contradictory. So do find out the competence and interest of your ward before admitting elsewhere. It has been observed that parents send their wards to study at other places and after sometime return to take admission again because of their dissatisfaction at their child's poor performance. Your child is precious and the school also feels that they require proper guidance till their schooling. So you are advised to think positively before arriving on a decision. Class XII marks also contribute in selection to good Universities and professional courses. In this growing age do take a suitable decision.

As the mentors/guides of your ward, we are fully aware that this period of life is extremely crucial and life changing for your ward and hence needs to be dealt with extreme sensibility and sensitivity. We firmly believe that our suggestions and recommendations for your ward are more likely to bear positive fruits as they are based on our past experiences dealing with such cases. Therefore we strongly recommend your interaction with the concerned school authorities/teachers, before arriving on any decisions. However if you still feel that your child can get a better environment of learning and facilities elsewhere and you plan to change school for your ward then a written intimation should be given in front office immediately. Attached herewith is the subject choice form. Kindly fill it and submit it in the front office as the new session will begin from 2nd of April 2018.

Thank you.
