Nava-Ras: Heartbeats in Colour, Heritage in Motion

Every emotion is a colour—and together they paint the masterpiece called life.

Syna International School shimmered with artistic splendour as it unveiled its Annual Presentation “NAVA-RAS 2025” under the visionary leadership of Director Principal Dr. Aditya Kumar Sharma. The evening blossomed into a vibrant confluence of creativity, culture, and character, celebrating the timeless essence of the nine rasas—Shringar, Hasya, Karuna, Raudra, Veera, Bhayanaka, Bibhatsa, Adbhuta, and Shanta. The ceremony commenced with a soul-stirring Saraswati Vandana, invoking blessings of knowledge, purity, and divine grace. This sacred beginning set a serene and powerful tone for the kaleidoscopic performances that unfolded.

What followed was a spellbinding series of presentations, each portraying a distinct rasa through dance, drama, rhythm, and expressive movement. The young Synaites illuminated the stage with their unwavering confidence, emotional depth, and artistic brilliance, reflecting not only skill but also cultural insight and emotional intelligence. True to its ethos of holistic development, Syna International School once again demonstrated its dedication to nurturing well-rounded, expressive, and culturally rooted learners. Every performance became a brushstroke in a grand canvas—celebrating emotion, storytelling, and the transformative power of art.

The evening reached its zenith with the gracious arrival of Chief Guest Mr. Ram Pratap Mehrotra, Director of Engineers India Limited and Advisor to Banaras Hindu University. He was accompanied by the esteemed dignitaries: Honourable Chairperson Dr. Nidhi Pathak; Shri Sanjay Satyendra Pathak, Former Minister of State & MLA; Board Members Mr. Yash Pathak, Mrs. Anukriti Pathak, Ms. Atisha Pathak; Mr. Varun Gautam, Managing Director, SYNA Group, Dr. Bharti Sharma, Headmistress SYNA Kids. Their presence added stature and grandeur to an evening that celebrated not only the performers but the enduring magic of human expression.

With six dynamic events — Entrepreneurship, Hackathon, Impact Challenge, Content Creation, Theatrics, and UN Simulation — the summit became a powerhouse of ideas and imagination. The opening ceremony dazzled everyone with a national award-winning dancer’s performance and an electrifying student band showcase.

The vibrant musical fest later in the evening turned the arena into a celebration of unity, culture, and pure joy. Throughout the summit, delegates attended thought-provoking interactive sessions and participated in fast-paced challenges that tested creativity, teamwork, and problem-solving. The MU20 Opportunity Summit 2025 was more than an event — it was a launchpad of inspiration, a canvas of bold ideas, and a journey of learning beyond classrooms. Our Syna delegates returned enriched, confident, and motivated. Gratitude to the MU20 team, our respected Director-Principal Sir, Dr. Aditya Kumar Sharma, and Mrs. Bhavna Singh for their unwavering support and guidance throughout this remarkable experience.

Wellness Wings: Where Health Meets Holistic Learning

Syna International School once again reaffirmed its commitment to nurturing healthy minds in healthy bodies by hosting a comprehensive General Health Check-Up Camp. The two-day initiative focused on Dental, Eye, and ENT wellness, turning the campus into a hub of awareness, care, and proactive health learning. The camp was organized under the visionary leadership of Director Principal Dr. Aditya Kumar Sharma, whose belief in blending education with wellbeing continues to guide Syna's holistic approach. A distinguished panel of medical experts added depth and value to the programme through their specialised care and guidance. Dr. Jayant Jagan, an esteemed Pediatrician, conducted detailed health evaluations, ensuring that students' growth, strength, and overall vitality were on the right track.

The Eye Care Unit, led by Dr. Seema Singh, a renowned Ophthalmologist, highlighted the importance of eye hygiene—especially crucial in today's digital age of prolonged screen exposure. The Dental segment, expertly handled by Dr. Nishtha Patel, provided insightful lessons on oral hygiene, preventive dental habits, and maintaining bright, confident smiles. More than a routine screening, the camp created a culture of self-awareness, empowering students to take charge of their own wellbeing. As the sessions concluded, each child walked away enlightened, reassured, and motivated to prioritise health in everyday life. The initiative beautifully echoed the school's belief that "Healthy students today build a healthier tomorrow."

CHRONICLES OF CULTURE & STONE

The Humanities Department (Class XI & XII) embarked on a captivating Heritage & Geography Odyssey to the timeless city of Sanskardhani – Jabalpur. This expedition transformed learning into an experiential tapestry, where every site whispered history and every moment sparked curiosity. The journey began at the Marble Rocks of Bhedaghat, where the Narmada sliced gracefully between luminous cliffs, shimmering like liquid silver under the sun. The breathtaking Dhuandhar Waterfall roared in majestic splendour, releasing clouds of mist that rose like celestial smoke — nature's own symphony etched in water and wind. Ascending the hill to the Chausath Yogini Temple, students stepped into a sacred circle of ancient art, divine feminine energy, and architectural brilliance. The serene Pisanhari Ki Madiya, with its tranquil aura and legendary origins, offered a soulful interlude for reflection and inner stillness. The excursion ended with a hearty meal, warm camaraderie, and conversations that stitched together memories as meaningful as the sites themselves. Guided by the dedicated faculty — Mr. Abhinav Khare (Incharge – Humanities), Mr. Shiv Kumar, Ms. Pinky Balyani, and Ms. Shalu Khurana — the visit became a perfect blend of scholarship, adventure, and cultural awakening. Director Principal Dr. Aditya Kumar Sharma emphasized that such immersive journeys nurture true understanding, transforming learners into explorers of heritage, history, and human wisdom.
